Your Woodlot and the Emerald Ash Borer (EAB) is a workshop to discuss how EAB will affect your decisions on managing your ash timber and how you will make decisions for your woodlot with the continued spread of the Emerald Ash Borer. This is a workshop, which will help anyone who owns a woodlot(s) which include ash trees. The workshop will help you in evaluating the current situation, learning information and tools which will help them make decisions on their present timber, and learn how to make good decisions in managing the woodlot in the upcoming years. The registration fee of $10 should be mailed to the below address and received by January 21, 2008. The main presenter at the workshop will be Kathy Smith, Extension Associate, Ohio State University Extension. Kathy works for the Ohio Woodland Stewards Program.
